Looking ahead...

Discovering Places

1st – 3rd May 2010

Arts Open Weekend

14th – 16th May 2010

Discovering Places weekend is a national 2012 Olympic Programme to celebrate the historic and natural environment of the UK. Milton Keynes is well placed with its historic buildings, towns and villages, parks, open spaces, wildlife, plants, trees and waterways and is making a bid to be a 'regional hub' for the UK; walks, talks, activities and events are already planned for across the borough. Key event will be the Parks Trust Walking Festival, organised by the Parks Trust, Milton Keynes.

Arts Open Weekend – a weekend of free exhibitions, workshops, demonstrations, talks and tours in arts venues across the borough of Milton Keynes. Activities are family-friendly and open to all.
