Festive Road

Seriously Magical Christmas

'We organise carnivals, lantern parades and art workshops across Milton Keynes and Northamptonshire.'

In 2008 Festive Road created an illuminated train for Seriously Magical Christmas, a jaw dropping parade that brought Silbury Arcade to life.

The event was organised in partnership with thecentre:mk and the hard work was completed by local children from Fishermead. The children amazed themselves, when Festive Road artists helped them to build and decorate six train carriages, as well as creating handmade magical costumes to transform themselves into wizards and goblins. But their work wasn't finished there... Performance Artist, Ursula White, taught the children a movement routine in time to a special soundtrack that they performed on the day. The magical parade took place on 17th November and was watched by hundreds who looked on in awe.
