Christmas Shows

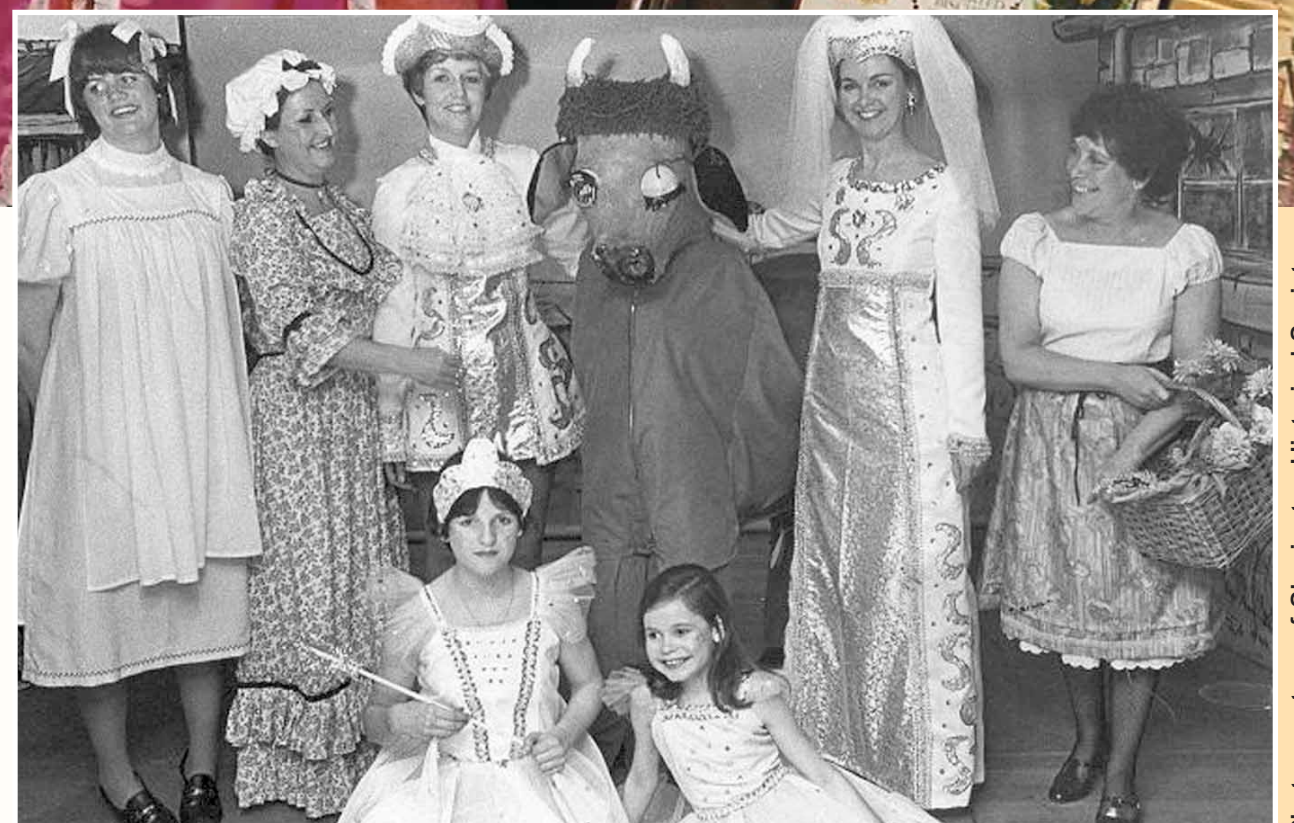

The launch at the Museum of MK Theatre's production of Dick Whittington 2002/03 with Gary Wilmot & Susie Amy

Christmas time has been a season when schools, churches, clubs and many other organisations presented a concert, play or some other form of entertainment.

It was also the time when going to a pantomime or theatre became an expected part of the festivities.

At home too, and long before television, videos or DVDs, families would gather to watch a picture show. Sometimes these were presented by the children – but “Health and Safety” might not approve of a paper film wound in front of a candle!
