Festive Road

Putting the kettle on the road

A musical and visual experiment

In 2010, as part of our 'Brewing Up for 2012' project, Festive Road will be creating a musical and visual experiment, bringing together performers and young musicians from Dhol, Samba and Steel Pan groups, to celebrate our tea drinking nation and make new and exciting 'tea-time' sounds, the likes of which have never been heard before!

The music will focus around a large Carnival Kettle, which will feature at MK International Festival in July.

We are interested to find out why people drink tea? What conditions make it a good 'cuppa'? How does tea bring people together? And we will be recording some of the 'Tea Conversations' on camera.

Come and join us for a quick cuppa?
