Stowe House

When Stowe School was created in 1923 and took over the estate, the key philosophy of the first headmaster was for every boy to leave the school knowing beauty when he saw it. On an estate of 750 acres, it was the perfect place to create a sporty atmosphere. Running tracks by 18th century temples, rugby and crickets pitches with amazing views of the Palace, swimming in vast man-made lakes and cross country running around the ha-ha wall made this the ideal place to exercise and explore at the same time!
